THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1869. | VOLUME II---NUMBER 129

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, NOVEMBER 16.

The Heavy Editor Gone to Macon.

The heavy editor went down to Macon this morning to attend the Fair and Press meeting.

☞ Over $10,000,000 has been spent on the New York Central Park.

☞ Over 8,000 of the linen drapers of Paris, have struck because they had to work fifteen hours a day.

☞ The last report is, that the dogma of papal infallibility will not be brought before the Ecumenical Council.

☞ The Treasury statement of receipts and expenditures, is erroneous to the amount of forty millions. So says the New York World.

☞ Reading matter on every page.

☞ A bill has passed its first reading in the Tennessee Legislature, granting a right of way through Tennessee, for the Great Southern Railway from Cincinnati to Chattanooga.

☞ In St. Louis, the Nicolson Pavement has given more satisfaction than any other. The iron pavement is not liked at all. The porphyry pavement is a failure. The concrete will do finely if it will stand so warm a climate.

☞ The Washington correspondent, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, says that Attorney General Hoar will undoubtedly resign the United States Attorney Generalship, and be appointed to the Supreme Bench. This will interfere with Judge Erskine.

MEMBERS OF FLORAL LODGE—GOOD TEMPLARS.—Every member of Floral Lodge, Good Templars, is hereby requested to appear at their new Hall in James' new building, Whitehall street, to-morrow, (Wednesday) morning, at 8 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of attending the funeral of its late Past Worthy Chief Templar, John D. Perdue. All Good Templars in the city, are invited to be present.

☞ See Fourth Page.

☞ The great Tennessee Railroad cases have been compromised. T. A. R. Nelson, A. H. Ewing, John Baxter, and James Cooper, were counsel for the Roads. Stanley Mathews and Aaron Perry, represented the government. The Roads were those running from Bristol to Dalton, through Knoxville; and from Chattanooga to Johnsonville, through Nashville. The Government claimed two millions debt against the roads; the roads plead a bill of four millions for the use of the roads, etc., by the Government. The cases have been settled. The Railroad Companies are to retain the roads, and run them, and pay the interest due on the Tennessee Railroad bonds, the surplus of earnings to go to pay the indebtedness of the general Government.

Vanderbilt.

Commodore Vanderbilt, one of the millionaires of the day, has just paid several hundred thousand dollars of his surplus cash for a huge bronze monument of himself, and it has been put up in a public place in New York City with great ceremony.

Perhaps no better commentary on the age is needed than this superlative piece of egotism. His brass is only equalled by the brazen image the money king has stuck up in his own honor.

In different days it has been the custom for men to wait for others to do such acts of remembrance. And it is usual, also, to wait for death to consecrate the services of the one who is thus honored. But old Vanderbilt, with a keen appreciation of the age in which he lives, and with the prurient desire to enjoy the practical reverence of posterity beforehand, rushes into brass, steals from death its laurels, antedates the tomb, takes fame by the forelock, and buys up the distinctions of distinguished and deceased mortality, just as he would purchase a horse or lay in a stock of wheat for speculation. Cool thing, this. If it's not reducing memory to a game of filthy barter, we have missed its meaning.

The only admirable thing in the whole transaction, is the fitness of the material of the statue for the purpose.

Brass well suits the occasion.

Georgia News.

The Augusta Constitutionalists states, that the Workingmen failed to get up a second meeting to nominate candidates for municipal offices.

The Hancock Journal says that Sparta is showing visible evidences of progress and improvement, and that another cotton house belonging to David Dickson with 40 bales of cotton was destroyed by fire a few nights since.

The Air-Line Eagle states that the carriage shop of Messrs. Rich & Winburn, at Gainesville, was destroyed by fire on the 11th. Loss comparatively light. Col. Jas. A. Findlay killed a negro named Lewis Bird, while engaged in stealing corn.

The Georgia Farm Journal says that Mathew Cook, Tax Receiver, of Morgan county, died on the 11th, of pneumonia. Mr. A. S. Hough's store was robbed of $10 worth of flour and bacon, and Mr. L. M. Wilson's shoe shop of three pairs of boots. Dudley Campbell is convalescing.

From the Augusta Chronicle we learn, that the Catholic Jubilee has commenced in that city. Colonel G. W. Rains, had one of his feet caught between the bumpers of a car at the Depot, and mashed. Henry Harrington, a Washington lawyer, in Augusta, getting up testimony against Turner for passing counterfeit currency. 331 whites and 9 blacks registered, so far.

The Augusta Constitutionalist notices a new rail, invented by Mr. H. T. Peake, the General Superintendent of the South Carolina Railroad, which takes the gold medal, combines all the advantages of the steel and iron rail. As is well known, a steel rail is too brittle to bear the pounding of heavy trains running at high speed. The iron rail is not hard enough and wears out rapidly. And the steel-faced rail, on account of the unequal expansion and contraction of face and body, soon becomes unserviceable, the face peeling off. The Peake rail has all the softness and toughness of the iron and all the hardness of the steel. It is made in two parts. The lower part, or the bed, is made of iron and is spiked to the bed in the usual way. In this bed fits a cap of steel, which is secured by bolts passing through the bed. This cap or head enough to bear the heaviest travel, while the elasticity of the bed makes breakage virtually impossible. Nor is there any loss of spikes in changing the head of the rail. The bed will scarcely wear at all, and, when the ties are good, the bolts are unscrewed, a new head is slipped in the bed, the bolts are made fast, and spikes, bed and ties are not in any way disturbed.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13, 1869.

DEATH OF HON. ROBERT J. WALKER.

Mr. Editor: In almost every letter I have to chronicle the death of some distinguished man. On the 10th instant, Hon. Robert J. Walker died in this city, aged sixty-eight years and four months.

HON. AMOS KENDALL.

Hon. Amos Kendall died at Kendall Green, in this city, on the 12th instant. Mr. Kendall was born at Dunstable, Massachusetts, in 1789. Of humble parentage, he nevertheless used every means in his power to procure an education. In 1807 he entered Dartmouth College, New Hampshire, but was frequently compelled to suspend his studies, in order to earn money, by teaching, to pay his collegiate expenses. He graduated with the highest honors of the College. In 1811, he commenced the study of law. In 1814, he went to Kentucky, and for a year was private tutor in the family of Henry Clay. In 1815, he commenced the practice of law, in Georgetown, Kentucky. In 1816, he became editor of the Argus, at Frankfort, Kentucky, and for four years ably conducted it.

In 1829, he was appointed Fourth Auditor of the Treasury, by General Jackson. In 1835, he was appointed Postmaster General, where his administrative abilities had an ample field. The country has never had a better officer in that department.

At the close of Mr. Van Buren's term, Mr. Kendall resigned his office, to resume his editorial duties.

When Prof. Morse came to Washington to obtain aid, from Congress, in the construction of a telegraph line from Baltimore to New York. Mr. Kendall rendered him valuable assistance, and received a large interest in the enterprise. In a few years he realized a handsome fortune therefrom.

Mr. Kendall, was very liberal towards charitable institutions, and has contributed no less than $166,000 for benevolent purposes in this city. His end was calm and peaceful, a fit termination of his noble Christian career. He will be buried to-morrow from the Calvary Baptist Church, of which he was a member.

NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE FRAUDS.

The customhouse frauds recently brought to light in New York are estimated at $800,000. They were committed in 1866-67 and 1868. The principal offender has not yet been arrested. They will all be secured however, and speedily brought to justice. They are are all doubtless, "truly loil."

GEORGE PEABODY.

It is stated that the remains of George Peabody, will be sent to this country by the British Government, in the ship Inconstant. Admiral Radford, of the European Squadron, has been telegraphed to by the Secretary of the Navy, and instructed to send a vessel to England, to escort the remains to this country.

Yours truly, SCRIPTOR.

The Johnson Banquet at Nashville.

The Nashville Union and American thus speaks of the affair:

The occasion with the acceptance of both houses of the State Legislature to partake of a banquet given by ex-President Andrew Johnson, at the Stacy House. His lofty character, intrepid dignity, and unquestioned patriotism forbade the idea, even in the minds of his political enemies, of attaching any political complexion or significance, to such a re-union, and the Legislature responded to the invitation with unanimity and good will, pleased with the opportunity of showing in private life their high appreciation of one who had done them such signal and faithful services, in the State and national councils. Invitations had been extended to a large number of our most prominent and influential citizens, who came in large numbers, and lent additional interest to the evening.

The reception was a most pleasant affair. In the center of the room, the very type in mould, and form, and feature of true manhood, stood Mr. Johnson, his extended hand open to the grasp of his fellow-citizens, who grouped about him with the familiar expression of "Mr. President." His compact form, his courageous contour, his leonine head, his frank and benignant smile, all spoke a welcome cordial as it was felt to those who were present. No one could have looked upon that scene presented to the eye, with his immortal history for the back-ground, without feeling Mr. Johnson reigned almost supreme in the affection of the people of Tennessee.

After heartily partaking of the sumptuous repast so bounteously spread before them, the guests, near five hundred in number, well pleased, departed to their homes, universally delighted with an occasion that will long be remembered as a brilliant and happy social event of our city. No remarks were made, and toasts indulged. It being strictly a social occasion, and the request of Mr. Johnson himself that, whatever might be the feelings of his friends, he desired nothing of the sort that could be tortured into the semblance of a political complexion.

THE NEW SECRETARY OF WAR TAKES THE REINS IN HIS OWN HANDS—GENERAL SHERMAN'S ORDERS SUPERSEDED.—Secretary Belknap is evidently determined to be the War Minister in fact as well as in name, and not to play second fiddle to any subordinate in his office. He oversees everything, examines every thing, and keeps the sharpest lookout generally over the affairs of his department. General Sherman had written an annual report for the department before Generel Belknap's installation, but the brilliant Iowan will have none of it. He wants a report of his own making, and not at second hand. He will write his own report and sign it. He will be Belknap all over, and not Sherman, by any sort of means. The General of the Armies is famed for assuming authority, not with any improper object, but by force of war habit. He had open tilts with the late War Secretary, General Rawlins, and has had a few already with Belknap, at least so say the gossips. It is said by these busy babblers that Belknap has repudiated an important claim passed favorably by Sherman, and that since that he has superseded two orders issued by the General of the Armies. One of these repudiated orders is said to have contained instructions to the heads of the several bureaus of the War Department directing them to make all the reports to him personally as General of the Armies. The action of Secretary Belknap in these matters is reported to have been so prompt and sudden as to quite startle the old fogies of the War Department.—Cor. Herald.

Dr. Livingstone on the Sources of the Nile.

The Bombay (India) Gazette has the following:

A letter was on Tuesday, October 5, received in Bombay by the government from Dr. Kirk, Acting Political Agent at Zanzibar, dated September 7, 1869, in which he states that he has received a letter from Dr. Livingstone, dated Bangweloo, July 8, 1868. In that letter Dr. Livingstone says: "I may say I have found what I believe to be the sources of the Nile, between 10 degress and twelve degrees south, or nearly the position assigned to them by Ptolemy."

The sources of the river appear from the letter to consist of a number of large lakes, and Dr. Kirk, in writing of these lakes, says they are "probably ten days' march in length, and, like the Nyassa Tanganyika and the Albert Nyanza, overhung by high mountain slopes, which open out in bays and valleys." This description of the appearance of the lakes and mountains appears to have been obtained from the Arab traders who brought the Doctor's letter to Zanzibar. Dr. Livingstone was in good health and spirits when he wrote this letter from Bangweloo.

The Nuptials of Mary Lincoln.

From the Mercury.]

The preparations for Mrs. Lincoln's wedding are said to be well advanced; and it is also said that the ceremony will be solemnized early in December, in view of which facts, the editor of the Easton Argus thus moralizes: The "happy dog," as our readers have already been advised, is Count Schneidenbutzen, Grand Chamberlain to the Duke of Baden. Although this title is rather imposing, it does not, in the Count's own home, imply either an impressive weight of dignity or a purse noticeably heavy. The Duke of Baden has small cash to spare and none to bestow on Grand Chamberlains, who have little to do about his Court, and who "come cheap" in a land where every fourth Dutchman is a Count or Baron. Indeed, a moderate belly-full of kraut and pumpernickel every Sunday is the only kind of "government pap" that ever distends the shrivelled skin of Schneidenbutzen, who is an uncommonly sorry specimen of the Teutonic nobility. The poor fellow is said to be in ecstacies over his good fortune in securing an heiress for a wife, and to be especially joyous in the prospect of falling into the vacant shirts, socks, breeches and shoes of the "late lamented," a large number of which have not yet followed his coats and hats to the junk-shop. A pair of "the Martyr's" trousers is being cut down for Schneidenbutzen by Count Kotzenbratzen, the Grand Duke's tailor, S. being a short-legged little fellow, while the late A. L., as everybody knows, strode the land on a pair of natural stilts.

It will be a funny sight, not however without some melancholy suggestiveness, to behold poor Schneidenbutzen leading "Mary, relict of Abraham Lincoln, deceased," to the altar, clad in the veritable habiliments of his illustrious predecessor, his breeches shining with autographic grease spots left by White House dinners of the past—his little feet shaking about loose in a pair of Illinois boots a mile too big for them—and his tiny hands encased in a pair of those enormous yellow kids, in which the fist of "the Martyr" was said to bear a striking resemblance to a canvassed Cincinnati ham. Poor little S.! For our part, we don't begrudge him a stitch of the sacred wardrobe. He will have earned it all before he is done with Mary L., and as she only reserved after her bereavement those garments which nobody would buy, her new husband will begin his matrimonial career by falling into uncommonly bad habits.

FACETIAE.—Friend "Jerry" is a good-natured, civil fellow, who attends to his business and provides well for his family, but has one little failing, in this, that when he goes to his home in the suburbs at night, he is usually more or less under the influence of contraband fluids. One night, a little after dark, he started for home with a nice turkey, safely done up in a strong wrapping paper, under his arm. "Jerry" found the road from the station to his pretty cottage, some half mile distant, uncommonly rough that night. He several times stumbled and fell over all sorts of obstructions in the path. Each time he fell he dropped his turkey. On entering his house, he steadied himself as well as he was able, and said to his wife: "Here, wifey, I've got 'leven turkeys for you."

"Eleven turkeys, Jerry! What do you mean? There's only one."

"There must be 'leven turkeys, wifey, for I fell down 'leven times, and every time I found a turkey."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Supreme Court refuses to enter resolutions of the Bar on the Minutes, in the Walker case.

Judge Dent will be in Jackson, Sunday, and will re-open the Mississippi canvass, Monday. He has received additional assurances from General Ames' supervisors, of a fair election.

Thomas J. Durant has not been tendered the Circuit Judgeship of Louisiana and Texas. He never applied for office.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 16.—The Alabama Legislature has ratified the 15th amendment. In the Senate, the vote stood: Yeas 24; nays, none; in the House, it was 69 to 16.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16.—A project for a treaty of alliance, defensive and offensive, between France, Austria and Russia, is pending. The treaty to continue three years. There is a party to maintain certain standing armies.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Twenty-eight Deputies issued their manifesto, demanding the right of the people to govern themselves. They will use peaceful means, unless an attempt is made to silence them by force. Their manifesto concludes: "The elective principle is the only one which will stand through all revolutions, and must be the base of the institutions of the country, but kept clear from monarchial compromises, and the violence of demagogues."

The Emperor abandons the idea of a change of Ministry until after the meeting of the Cortes, when he will select men capable of commanding the support of a majority of the corps.

Rochefort's election is certain.

Troops are quietly concentrated in Paris. The prospect of disorder is exceedingly remote.

CARLOTTA PATTI.

How She Stormed Washington.

Patti is no longer the debutante she was as she left us, in 1863, but has, in her six years' absence abroad, developed her art as she has developed her magnificent bust. The latter, by the way, more than compensates for her lameness, and she came before us here with such decollete abandon as to remind us of the classic Phryne correcting her judges. But Washington fears nothing since the Blondes, and this was not an affair at all. Carlotta Patti was famous always for her marvelous staccato, and she gave us her best last night, and was caught every time leaving the stage in storms of applause. This lady seems to have won European eclat almost commensurate with her sister Adalina's, and has been wafted into Moldavia, Wallachia, and the remotest nooks and corners of the continent, as if on the notes of her crescendo. Almost every body remembers the history of these two musical sisters, born poor in Italy, where music is a product of the climate, brought almost in infancy by their parents to New York, cultivating their gift by the help of friends, and going back to the Old World to conquer it with melody. There was another sister, and the family genius ran through all three. But this third is now the wife of the rich Strakosch, and retired from the public. These Patti sisters are to music what Rachel was to the drama, cold and classic in their style, but finishing their art to exquisite perfection. Neither of them have Nilsson's or Parepa's soul or sweetness, or power of voice, but overmatch these singers in execution. We have heard more of Adalina on this side of the Atlantic, but Carlotta is said to have a higher range to her voice, and in no way inferior to her sister, save that her lameness hinders her from the opera stage. Their kind of music is nearly the same. I have said as much of Miss Patti, as she comes in December to renew her Western acquaintance, and a thought of her history and merit, so much of them American, is not out of place. Max Strakosch has put into his combination, too, a young violin artist, Prume, whose music fairly drips from his fiddle-bow.

☞ Paul de Cassagnac reminds the Emperor in his journal, the Pays, that he can not get along with old men, and that all the celebrities of France, beginning with Napoleon I., who was Consul at the age of 30, were young men at the time they rose to power. Theirs and Bernadotte were ministers at 35, Mole at 33, Mortier and Caulaincourt ambassadors at 34, Bresson, Arago, and Montebello a 35, Thouvenel at 31, and Drouyn de Lhuys was charge d'affairs at 29. Three of Louis Napoleon's ministers under his short-lived Republican administration, Buffet, De Falloux, and Duclerc, were respectively 30, 37 and 33 years old. Cassagnac argues that the ultra conservatism of old men ruins the Government, while the progressive spirit of young men might save it; but like seeks like, and L. N. feels at home only with those who, like him, are verging on the grave.

☞ Going over on the Hoboken ferry-boat yesterday, the water was a little rough, and a lovely and estimable young lady, as the boat gave a sudden lurch, clung affrightedly to the extended elbow of her male companion. Looking up into his fond orbs, she murmured:

"Oh, Henry, this is terrible!"

"Yes, it is," he responded, "but lean on me and I will protect you."

"Do you think it will be as rough as this all the way across?" anxiously inquired the female.

"I do," responded Henry.

"Then I guess I'll have to lean on you," returned the lady.

"For life?" whispered Henry, turning pale at the thought of refusal.

"I—I—don't know—the water is aw—ful rough—I guess ye—yes—you'd better ask papa."

☞ The progress of Minnesota in the production of wheat, is among the agricultural marvels of the age. It is estimated that the surplus wheat of that State the present year will be fully fifteen million bushels, while but a little of the great grain plateau embraced within its limits, has yet been brought under cultivation. One farmer, the past year, harvested one thousand acres, with an average yield of forty bushels to the acre. This section, while much of it is too far north for growing corn, will evidently become the Odessa of America in the production of wheat.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher sometimes tells his congregation that it is hard for a rich man to get to heaven, as it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle. But as his income, which amounted to $28,000 last year, is very small compared to that of Stewart, or Vanderbilt, or Astor, he thinks he can induce St. Peter to look upon it as a mere trifle, and to admit him for his piety. We certainly wish him success in the attempt, but would advise him not to die with such an income upon his soul. There is no telling to what out-of-the-way place its specific gravity might sink him.

Extract of Juniper.

DR. GUILMETTE, Physician and Chemist of 40 years, experience, after many costly trials, has succeeded in producing a pure JUNIPERINE EXTRACT, warranted free from the deleterious oils usually found in foreign and domestic Gins, and which, by their action upon the fluids and tissues of the body, aggravate the disease, rather than effect a cure.

THIS PURE EXTRACT OF JUNIPER

Is a pleasant healthful beverage, and is superior to all other remedies for

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
DEBILITY OF STOMACH and BOWELS,
CHOLIC,
DYSPEPSIA,
FLATULENCY,
GRAVEL,
DIABETES,

And all Diseases of the Urinary Organs.

Read the Testimony of Prof. Geo. B. Wood one of our highest authorities:

"Juniper is Gently Stimulant, Cordial to the Stomach, Carminative, and Diuretic. The Diuretic is very decided. It answers an excellent purpose in Dropsy, as an Alternative in Scorbutic and Eruptive Disorders, and as a Gentle Stimulant in Debility of the Stomach and Bowels."

Guaranteed to be Chemically Pure.

☞ The New York municipal authorities employ thieves on their police forces.

☞ The trip from New York to Brest, France, has just been made by the steamer Periere in 8 days and 11 hours and 35 minutes.

☞ A New York court has decided that a man who keeps a savage dog enclosed on his premises, is liable if the brute does harm.

☞ In France it costs 20 cents to send 20 words by telegraph, anywhere in the kingdom; or 10 cents anywhere in the department.

This beats American telegraphing.

☞ Bonner of the Ledger, has just bought another expensive horse. He has paid $20,000 for the famous stallion, Major Winfield, and changed its name to Edward Everett. It is Dexter's half brother.

☞ The last musical performance of Fisk was to engage from the Leopold, the King of Belgium, his royal band of music numbering 75 picked peformers, to play two months at his Grand Opera House in New York.

The Dominican Republic.

It is said that Grant has really made the compact for the annexation of the Dominican Republic to the United States. President Baez, of that Republic, has agreed to, and is anxious for the annexation. The treaty is to be laid before Congress as soon as it meets.

This will be a more desirable acquisition than Seward's old barren iceberg of Alaska.

CIRCUS AUCTION.—In Cincinnati, on the 9th, Dr. Thayer's Circus and Menagerie was sold out at auction for debt. Performing horses ranged at $150. The trick pony, Doctor, brought $930. Such a one can be bought cheaper than that, in the Radical circus of Georgia. A small elephant, brought $1,275. Four cantankerous lions, were knocked down at $8,000. The whole concern brought $15,000.

Cuba.

Gen. Jordan has written another letter to somebody in this country. It bears date the 18th October. He still cries out for supplies. He says the Cuban armed force amounts to 26,800. With 15,000 more arms he thinks they could end the war in ninety days. He speaks highly of the Cuban patriots. Slavery is really abolished. 40,000 negroes follow their camps, some of them armed with hatchets, etc. The great need is clothes. Over 30,000 delicate Cuban ladies are living half-clad.

The North Carolina Outrage.

A day or two ago, we alluded to a Radical outrage in North Carolina. General Canby took a policeman named Scultatus, who had killed a Federal soldier resisting arrest, out of the hands of the civil law, and ordered him tried by a military tribunal.

A still further iniquity has been done in the same affair.

The principal witness in favor of Scultatus, a man named C. B. Weeks, has been arrested, and thrown into jail, charged with perjury. Weeks is a Northern man. But nothing avails with this military tyranny, that interferes with its predetermined injustice. Col. Donovan, one of the officers visited Weeks and advised him to turn States evidence. Weeks declares that the object is to keep his evidence out of the trial, and he defies the military.

The people are quiet, but look with horror on this new infamy.

Grant's endorser, Walker, has been elected Governor, reconstruction has been swallowed whole, every scintilla of dirt and iniquity in that measure has been unconditionally sanctioned, and no people to-day are more loyal than the proud Virginians, yet this summary and shameful substitution of the bayonet, for the code, has been their first experience of their boasted restoration to the Union under Radical auspices.

Aaron Alpeoria.

The two touching specimens of human nomenclature at the head of this article are not altogether unknown to Georgia fame. The area of the Empire State hath not unfrequently resounded to their affecting music. The classic Ogeechee has caught up from the walls of Sing Sing Penitentiary, their melodious refrain, and echoed it to the embellished walls of Kimball's Opera House. Even the worthy Governor hath lingered in their magic influence. Verily, the Constitution itself glitters with the matchless utterances of this typical specimen of a Radical ex-State Senator.

Aaron's vicissitudes have been many. For some time the royal black Republican hath dwelt among his congenial friends of Puritanic savor in meditation and perhaps in soak for new and higher flights of ambition.

But he has lately emerged. In kindness to the Radical party of Georgia, we post them upon his last movements.

The negro laborers in New York City have had a Convention.

Aaron took the following brilliant and characteristic part in the performances. We call attention to the splendid exhibition he gave of his pupilage under the Radical B.'s of Georgia. We hasten to give his infatuating feats:

During a lull in the many excited debates incident to the very important work of the evening, two or three distinguished personages of color were presented to the meeting—first of whom was State Senator Bradley, of Georgia. This individual, when introduced, proposed to say but a word, but he soon became red hot in his eloquence about "capitalists," "bankers," "gold coin," and the "little State of Massachusetts," forgetting the business of the meeting to such a degree that audible titters were heard from every section of the room, and in deference to this exhibition the Chairman handed him a scrap of paper, on which was the ominous word "Stop." Mr. Bradley said he couldn't read without glasses, but he supposed it meant "quit," and retired in disgust.

☞ The young man who has been traveling about lately and jumping off the trains to kiss his sister, and then apologizing when he found his mistake, has become converted, and will lead a different life. He tried the thing on at New Haven the other day, and when the damsel raised her veil he found she was so black that charcoal would make a white mark on her.

Political.

Judge Embry, of Kentucky, brother-in-law to Senator Fowler, has been appointed Minister to Ecuador, vice Nunn, of Tennessee, declined.

"Governor" Bullock, of Georgia, has taken his carpet-bag and himself to his home in Massachusetts. Unfortunately for the people he "governs," he is expected to return.—Nashville Banner.

The negroes of Tennessee, are to have a Convention, in Nashville, on the 3d of December, to investigate their condition. They will always find it necessary to investigate their condition while the Radicals manage them.

SOUTHERN POST-OFFICES TO BE OVERHAULED.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

Postmaster General Creswell has just sent out a batch to overhaul prominent post-offices from Richmond to New Orleans, including that at Macon, Georgia. "Superintendent" George B. Armstrong started to-day. He will be joined at Macon by Mr. Earle, the First Assistant Postmaster, with a bevy of underlings. There is great excitement in consequence, and evident trouble brewing among the carpet-bag and negro postmasters at the South.

The Chicago Times says: "People who are still wondering why President Grant appointed the Chevalier Jones to the mission at Bruxeles, may have less cause to wonder, when they learn that in book 533 of deeds, at page 452 (to be seen in the recorder's office in Chicago), there is recorded a deed from J. Russell Jones to U. S. Grant, conveying about one hundred acres of land, for the nominal consideration of one dollar. The deed was filed for record on the 29th of May, 1869. The Chevalier Jones started for Bruxeles, a full fledged diplomat, not long afterward."

There has been some little misunderstanding at the North as to who "the people" of the South are. We can't see how the question could have been more satisfactorily settled than it is done by that sensible journal, the Rochester (N. Y.) Union and Advertiser, which says: "Rebels, whether they repent or do not repent, are 'the people' of the South. And, in our opinion, the rebel who, believing that he was right in his rebellion, still maintains the justice of the cause for which he fought and suffered, while bowing gracefully to the inexorable logic of defeat, is entitled to more respect and worthy of more confidence than the rebel who, fighting and suffering in the same cause, now pretends that he was 'loyal' all the time and seeks office as the leader of deluded negroes and Northern scalawags and carpet-baggers."

From the Anti-Slavery Standard.]

"THE MAN THAT GIVES BRAINS TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY"—WHAT HE SAYS OF THE RECENT ELECTIONS—HIS OPINION OF THE ADMINISTRATION—The Elections.—The late elections do not much change the aspect of public affairs. The Republican party can hardly be said to hold its own. Still it remains strong. The most striking feature is the revival of the old issues and the interests in new ones. This shows that we are floating away from the keen and angry devotion to the one great question of the war—the negro.

This should rouse our friends to more activity—our day is fast slipping away. We must work while the day lasts. Once let public thought float off from the great issue of the war, and it will take perhaps more than a generation to bring it back again. Meanwhile two things are evident. Unless some remedy is devised, the negro will stand in peril and use his rights only at great personal hazard for many years to come. Secondly, it is as evident that the Administration at Washington does not mean to interfere actively in his behalf. President Grant not only does not plan any interference, he can not by any appeal be roused to allow or arrange any. * * * Several of the Southern States, most of them, will fall at first into rebel hands. But in the end, loyalty will find room and protection.

All things help the right. Only put the negro on land and thus let him vote free from fear of starvation, and loyalty has nothing to fear. The varnish of a few fine words and a little forced kindness will never hide the scars of two centuries. This generation trembled too anxiously, longed too impatiently for 1863, and have rejoiced too profoundly in that great deliverance to forget it in their day. The kindly African nature is the most forgiving of all races, and the most forgetful of injuries. But it needs no bull-dog and no fox for this occasion. The gentlest hare knows the hound when he sees him.

But the administration is verily guilty for its cruel neglect. The garment whose skirts are full of innocent blood, shed by its predecessor, it has voluntarily put on. It is yet to be seen whether it has thrown away the strength of its party, which to-day is the staff of loyalty. But it needs no future hour to show that it has broken a nation's pledges to the loyal men of the South, and basely left them unshielded to their enemies. No financial success will give such idlers and fops the credit of Statesmen. Treacherous, selfish betrayers of those who trusted them, guilty of blood and as having slatterned away the noblest opportunities—this will be their record in History.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.

A Hint to School-Book Makers.

We hope that it will one day be put into the hearts of some of those gentlemen who compile "Readers" for the use of schools to insert, among their "Lessons in Words of One and Two Syllables," a chapter to the following effect:

"HOW TO AD-DRESS A LET-TER.

"When you are go-ing to send a let-ter to the post of-fice, you should be care-ful to put on the out-side, in ve-ry plain wri-ting, the name of the per-son you want the let-ter to go to, the name of the town or city where he lives, and the street and num-ber of his house or store. If you do not know the street and num-ber, you should put on what the man does for a living. So if you want to send a let-ter to John Brown, in Bos-ton, who keeps a hat store, you should put this on the out-side:

"JOHN BROWN,
"Hat-ter,
"BOS-TON.
"Mass

"If you know the street and num-ber of his store, you should put that on too. Then when you put your let-ter in-to the post of-fice, the men in the post of-fice will know how to send it right, so that John Brown will get it. But if you do not put on what he does for a liv-ing, the men in the post of-fice will not know which John Brown to send it to, and may send it to some oth-er John Brown, and John Brown the hat-ter will be ve-ry an-gry, and will go to the men in the post of-fice in Bos-ton and per-haps will use bad words to them."

The present adult generation in this country is apparently so stiff-necked and perverse in the matter of addressing its letters, that we have but little hope of its reformation. Illegibility, incompleteness and hap-hazard haste characterize the addresses of a very large number of the domestic letters which pass through the United States mails. It is customary to laugh on seeing such an address as this on a letter:

"In care of Bridget Maloney,
Number 207 11th street, east,
two doors from the bake shop,
for Dennis Malloy, carpenter,
2d floor in the rear, front room."

But there is nothing funny about it. The writer has simply done his or her best to secure the delivery of the letter to the proper person, and to no one else, and has taken elaborate pains to aid the Post-office in finding that person without loss of time. The addresses given is much less ridiculous than that which the great Mr. Goldbug, the millionaire merchant, scrawls upon his letter. He can only afford the time to scribble some faint resemblance of the name of the person or firm he has written to, adding the abbreviated name of the city, without street or number, hands his letter to the messenger, and leaves it to "the Post-office fellows" to forward and deliver as best they may, quite prepared, if his own carelessness should cause the delay or loss of his epistle, to make the postmaster feel the weight of his magnificent displeasure in a letter beginning, "I believe you are the servant of the public, and as such," etc.

We confess that we see little cause for expecting a reform in this matter for many years to come. But if our suggestion as to the school-books should happily be adopted, we may not unreasonably hope that the next generation of Americans will manifest the effect of the lesson thus instilled into their infant minds by taking half the trouble to address their letters properly that Irish laborers and servants do now.—[United States Mail.

☞ Louis Napoleon hopes to disarm Rochefort of the Lanterne, by overlooking his opposition to his dynasty. But Rochefort is a hard nut to crack, and he and Ledru-Rollin are likely to give serious trouble to the sick man of the Tuileries.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Special to The Constitution.]

MACON, Nov. 16.—The city is crowded with visitors and they are still coming by heavy loads. There is a large quantity of material for exhibition, and sixty car loads on the way. There were eight thousand people on the Fair Ground to-day. The Fair is not thoroughly arranged yet. It is the beginning of a grand success.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 16.—All the newly elected members of the Legislature have been admitted to their seats. The seats of Messrs. Proskaner and Magee, Democrats from Mobile, will be contested by their opponents.

In the Senate, Mr. Pennington, Republican, introduced a resolution requesting Congress to remove all disabilities of the Fourteenth Amendment.

The eighth annual fair of the Alabama State Agricultural Society, commences in this city, on the 23d and continues four days. Ample arrangements have been made to accommodate a large crowd. All the indications are that in point of numbers and entries, it will surpass any of the ante bellum fairs.

MOBILE, Nov. 16.—The city was visited by a gale to-day, doing considerable damage. The roof of the main building of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad freight depot was blown off. Several negroes were badly hurt, and one white man killed.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 16.—The annual Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association opened to-day, under very favorable auspices. The number of visitors is larger than was expected on the first day. The Fair promises to be a success.

MACON, Nov. 16.—The crowd here in attendance upon the Macon Fair, is immense. Every train brings fresh accessions. Gen. Wade Hampton arrived here this morning. He will deliver the annual address before the State Agricultural Society. Hon. Mark A. Cooper delivered an address this afternoon, upon the destiny of Georgia, and the interests and policy of cotton planters indicated thereby. It was a strong practical effort, and was received with much favor by a large and attentive audience.

MILWAUKIE, Nov. 16.—During a fencing scene in the theatre, a rapier struck a kerosene lamp, which exploded, and the building took fire and was consumed. Fifteen or twenty persons were badly burned; two bodies have been recovered from the ruins, but others still remain.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Baron Worther, the new Prussian Minister, presented to Napoleon, the mutual expressions of peace and good will of Prussia with France.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The English ship Monarch, will take Mr. Peabody's remains home, and will be attended by American vessels, and probably several French vessels will join the funeral fleet.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 16.—Arrived—steamer Manhattan, from New York; steamer Prometheus, from Philadelphia; schooner J. N. Lovell, New Haven. Sailed—steamer Falcon, for Baltimore.

EXTRACT

From a notice of the Chapman Sisters' Comic Opera Company, while at De Bar's Opera House, St. Louis, in the St. Louis Republican of the 18th of August:

"Their rare personal beauty is heightened by a grace of manner, a finish of style, which blends together with an attractiveness that none can resist. It is pleasant to notice that even in the maddest freak of this mad extravaganza, these ladies never forget the modesty of deportment, which is the brightest ornament of womanhood. Their fun never degenerates into vulgarity—the wine of their humor has no sediment to poison. The Misses Chapman may be proud of their reception here; but they richly deserve it."

"Mr. Bishop, irresistibly comic, played his part to perfection. He is sure to become a prime favorite among our play-goers."

The Performances will be changed each evening.

GLASS SPECTACLES,

Superior to any other in use—constructed in accordance with the science and philosophy of nature, in the peculiar form of

A CONCAVE CONVEX ELLIPSIS,

Admirably adapted to the organs of sight, and perfectly natural to the eye, affording altogether the best artificial help to the human vision ever invented. Used only by

Morris Bernhardt,
SPECTACLE AND OPTICAL Manufacturer.

THE ADVANTAGES of these Spectacles over all others are:

1. They can be worn with perfect ease for any length of time at one sitting, giving astonishing clearness of vision, by candle or any other artificial light, comfort to the spectacle-wearer hitherto unknown.

2. How to select Glasses. It requires professional guidance even when a good article is offered. Dr. Bernhardt not only has the best Glasses that can be found in the market, but carefully examines the eyes and gives indispensable advice as to the proper selection of them.

3. When the Eyes ache or pain through the action of a bright light, such as is reflected from the snow, sunny weather, white paper, and in reading, writing, sewing, or vivid colored bodies, these lenses, by softening the rays, effect a most agreeable sensation and give great relief.

4. These Spectacles are scientifically adjusted to every case of defective sight with unerring accuracy, whether arising from age, strain, over work, or premature decay, by Morris Bernhardt, on a new and exact principle, entirely his own, which has seldom failed to be correct.

5. After several years of public practice, adjusting spectacles to patients under every aspect of defective vision, as well as experience in an extensive, long established business in his Optical Stores, both here and in Europe, M. Bernhardt considers it a sufficient guarantee of his ability to supply such glasses as are best calculated for the assistance of imperfect sight.

6. M. Bernhardt, to signalize himself from the host of pretenders in his profession, with pride submits for inspection, copies of testimonials he has received from medical gentlemen of the most unquestionable respectability and talent in America; also, a number of certificates from well known gentlemen of distinction who have used his spectacles—the originals of all which he will be happy to show to those who may request it. The use of any of the following names or certificates hereunto affixed, without an actual possession of the same, would be a forgery, a capital offense, punishable by State imprisonment.

Testimony of Recommendations from Medical Gentlemen, Professors of the highest Opthalmic talent in Atlanta, Ga., and in the Union.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2, 1869.

I have examined carefully and with much interest, a collection of Glasses for the relief of impaired vision, submitted to me by Prof Bernhardt, an Optician. In adaptation to the end proposed, as well as in elegant workmanship, they are very superior, and deserving the patronage of whomsoever may unfortunately require their use.

H. V. M. MILLER, M. D.

We fully concur in the above opinion of Dr. Miller.

JOHN M. JOHNSON, M. D.
JAS. F. ALEXANDER, M. D.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3, 1869

It affords me pleasure to state that I have carefully examined Professor Bernhardt's collection of Glasses for the eyes, and from his explanation of the manner in which he adapts them to imperfect eyes, I am fully satisfied that he thoroughly comprehends the science of Optics, and that he is practically eminently skillful in the adaptation of instruments for the relief of all forms of imperfect vision within the scope of relief without an operation.

I am confirmed, in my own opinion of the Professor's merits of the testimony of the most reliable and promient medical men in various cities in the United States, I most cheerfully commend him to all with whom my opinion may have any weight.

J. P. LOGAN, M. D.

Atlanta, Nov. 3, 1869.

We have examined Prof. Bernhardt's beautiful and extensive collection of Glasses for the relief of impaired vision, and believe them to be the best adapted to the ends for which they are intended than any we have ever seen, and further believe that the Professor is an accomplished Optician.

D. C. O'KEEFE, M. D.
JAS. M. BARBER, M. D.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3, 1869.

Prof. M. Bernhardt has furnished me with a pair of Concave lens which suit my case exactly. From personal experience I can cordially advise all persons whose natural vision requires the supplements of art to avail themselves of the Professor's skill. He has exhibited to me recommendations from eminent Physicians and Ministers, with many of whom I am personally acquainted. He is evidently an Optician who understands his business.

W. T. BRANTLY,
Pastor 2d Baptist Church.

I most cordially concur in the numerous testimonials I have seen to ching the excellency of Dr. Bernhardt as an Optician, and most freely commend those who are in need of aid in his line to apply to him. I do this in some measure from my own experience. I regard Dr. Bernhardt as an accomplished Optician, and a gentleman deserving patronage.

JOHN S. WILSON, D. D.,
Pastor 1st Pres Church, Atlanta, Ga.
Atlanta, Nov. 2, 1869.

I fully concur in the opinion of Rev. J S Wilson, D. D., in the above certificate.

W. M. CRUMLY,
Pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, South.
Atlanta, Nov. 3, 1869.

To the above testimonials I cheerfully add my name.

R. W. FULLER,
Pastor of 1st Baptist Church, Atlanta.

Nashville, April 27, 1867.

The difference between Dr. Bernardt and most Opticans is, according to my observation, that while they pretend to more than they know, he knows more of his business than he professes.

W. K. BOWLIN, M. D.

Testimonials similar to the above may be seen at M. Bernhardt's office, from the most reliable and well known gentlemen of the United States, among whom are:

JAMES L. ORR, Ex-Governor of S. C.
HORATIO SEYMOUR, Ex-Governor of N. Y.
R. M. PATTON, Ex-Governor of Alabama.
JONATHAN WORTH, Ex-Governor of N. C.

ESTABLISHED 1859. Job Printing! —BY— T. S. REYNOLDS.

THE citizens of Atlanta, and those surrounding places doing business here, are reminded that I am still in successful operation, with every facility on hand, and continually receiving, for executing in all its departments, Plain and Fancy, in as good style, and on as moderate terms, as any other house in this section of the country. Parties abroad may rest assured that any manner of Printing, such as Hand-bills, Circulars, Letter-Heads, Bill-Heads, Cards, Envelopes, Checks, Drafts, Notes, Receipts, in fact every thing, Fancy or Plain, will be attended to with the same fidelity, care and promptitude as for parties here. Try me and prove it. Having been in business here for the last ten years, (except when wintering further South during Sherman's reign,) I take the liberty of referring to my business career as a testimonial of what I assert.

JOB PRINTING

COL. JACK C. BOYD.—Col. Jack C. Boyd is now traveling in the interests of the well known firm of Williams, Langston & Crane.

RAIN.—As we write, the rain is coming down in copious streams. The streets present a splashy appearance, and winter seems to have set in in earnest.

CRAWFORD W. JOHNSON.—We are pleased to learn from Dr. J. L. Hamilton, that Crawford W. Johnson, who was badly injured at Vining's Station, some time since, is convalescing, and hopes are entertained of his final recovery.

THE SYNOD OF GEORGIA.—The Synod of Georgia, composed of Presbyteries in Georgia and Florida, meets in Tallahassee, Florida, on the 18th inst. The subject of the removal of Oglethorpe College will come up before it.

CHANGE BILLS.—A Savannah merchant has received $5,000 in fractional currency, of the new issue, in order to relieve the pressure for small change. We trust his example will be imitated, for if we can't get a $500 bill, we will be satisfied with the small change!

THE FARMER AND ARTISAN.—The first number of an excellent weekly Agricultural Journal, the Farmer and Artisan, published at Athens, by Col. S. A. Atkinson, of the Banner. Terms $3 per annum. Send for a specimen copy.

NEW PAPERS IN ATLANTA.—We learn that the Georgia Farm Journal will shortly be removed here from Madison, and that J. F. Shecut will commence next month the publication here of a new evening paper, under the name of the Evening Express.

EIGHT O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.—We are requested to announce that both Atlanta and Floral Lodges Good Templars', will meet in their new Hall, this morning at 8 o'clock, preparatory to attending the funeral of John D. Perdue. Every member is requested to be present.

MR. A. J. MCALISTER.—The Macon Telegraph-Messenger, says that Mr. A. J. McAlister was bound over in a bond to answer to the charge of assault with intent to murder one Isaac Brown, colored, whom he shot in the hip. The shooting is said to have been accidental.

RURAL SOUTHERNER.—The Novemeber number of the Rural Southerner, fully sustains its reputation as an Agricultural Journal of superior merit. We cheerfully commend it to our readers. S. A. Echols, editor. Price $1 per annum. Send for it.

"VASHTI, OR UNTIL DEATH US DO PART." We are indebted to the enterprizing firm of Messrs. J. J. & S. P. Richards, for a handsomely bound copy of "Vashti, or Until Death us Do Part," Miss Augusta J. Evans last work. The admirers of Miss Evans will find copies of the work at Messrs. Richards' Book Store.

HENRY C. HOUSE.—Henry C. House, son of Frank C. House, of this city, who was a drummer of Co. I 42d Georgia, has been mourned as dead by his family and friends since the Fall of 1864. He was captured by the Yankees with Atlanta. His parents heard no more of him until a few days ago, they heard from him in the State of New York. One can well imagine their joy on the occasion.

JOHN D. PERDUE.—John D. Perdue, an estimable young man, a printer by profession, esteemed for his noble traits of character and generous impulses, died on Monday night, after a protracted illness. He was Past Worthy Chief Templar of Floral Lodge, Good Templars, at the time of his death. We sincerely sympathise with his wife and relatives in their bereavement. We hope every Good Templar will make it a point to attend his funeral this morning.

FRIEND Whidby says: "While here he will visit West End, Bellwood, Kirkwood, Wheelerville, and other suburban villages, and satisfy himself about the population of Atlanta."
But he was mistaken, we didn't intend to do any such thing, we did take a peep at the beer-jerkers, but we did not have sufficient courage to venture out to some of these suburban villages where a man's life is safe neither day nor night.
Ah! then it was bibulation, and not population, you were after, friend Woodward!

THE NEW RAILROAD.—The new Railroad from Stone Mountain to Trickum, in Gwinnett, is meeting with liberal subscriptions from residents along the proposed line. It is an important road, and will be a valuable feeder to the Georgia Road. The projectors are parties who have at heart only the public interests. While other roads ask for State aid to the amount of $12,500 to $15,000 per mile—they only ask for $10,000 per mile, as $40,000 will build it. The road runs through the fertile lands of Possum Corner, and Chestnut Ridge.

A FREQUENT OCCURRENCE.—Postmasters and their clerks are often blamed unnecessarily for the detention or missending of letters; when the fault is with the letter writer. Some months ago, one of our solid citizens enclosed some notes, to the amount of $5,000 or $6,000, in an envelope, and mailed it. He thought he had endorsed the address on the back, but he hadn't written a line. A few days ago it came back to him from the dead letter office. Another merchant gave the name of the party on the back of the letter, but no direction. The wag of the Atlanta Post-office wrote on it, "Can't guess," and returned it to the writer.

WELL, WHAT'S THE MATTER?—Not unfrequently is this question asked by parties who compare the common, ordinary kind of spectacles with the beautiful Brazilian Pebble and Australian glasses, manufactured by Dr. Bernhardt, who has made the science of optics the study of his life, and it is but fair the question, which is of itself of the greatest possible importance, should be answered definitely and satisfactorily.

In the first place, the Brazilian Pebble and Australian glasses are carefully ground to a certain specified focus, by which the owner can read or write for hours without the slightest fatigue whatever. In the use of ordinary glasses, ophthalmic diseases are not unfrequently brought on that cause the patient a vast amount of annoyance for years.

Dr. B.'s glasses are perfectly clear, and by their use, a peculiar degree of comfort is derived that can not possibly be obtained by using any substitute whatever. Read the advertisement of Dr. Bernhardt, obtain his professional advice, and then use his admirable invention. Office United States Hotel.

☞ Miss Dora Harris, made her debut as "Leonora" in Trovatore, with the Richings Opera Company, in Washington, the other day, and the New York Herald says of it: "The fair Harris, was an amusing failure, vocally and histrionically. When the part came where she ought to die, she wouldn't do it, and the tenor was obliged to go over and whisper rather loudly, 'D—n it! die—why don't you? Die! die!' It is unnecessary to say the audience roared.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.—We have often read in the newspapers of the grand success of medical compounds put up at the North and elsewhere. Many of these medicines have had their day, and we hear no more of them. Their proprietors have made fortunes, not so much from the curative powers and virtues of their mixtures, as from the notoriety given them by advertising, by which people were made to believe all the good that was said of them. A preparation is now before the public which is becoming very popular, and is known as Bradfield's Female Regulator, put up by L. H. Bradfield & Co., of Atlanta. Such is it curative virtues, that it has gained wide spread popularity all over the country where it has been made known, and it is being introduced everywhere. We are informed that immense quantities of this medicine is being sold in all sections of the South and Southwest, especially in the city of New Orleans and in Texas.

This much we say in justice to its proprietors, who are gentlemen of integrity, who would not engage in the manufacture and sale of a humbug.—La Grange Reporter. nov7dtf

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT.

The Trials and Tribulations of Female Medical Students.

Twenty-seven of the female students of the Women's Medical College, in the north-western part of the city, have purchased tickets for the clinical lectures at the Pennsylvania Hospital, and it is understood that about twenty more of the female students intend to procure tickets for the same lectures. These "clinics" are also attended by the male students of the other Medical Colleges of the city, and about three hundred and fifty of these have tickets for the hospital lectures. On Saturday last, the female students attended in a body, for the first time, and were present at the lectures on medical and surgical cases by Drs. Da Costa and Hunt. When the classes were dismissed, the male students, numbering between two and three hundred, left the lecture-room in advance of the ladies, and ranged themselves along the foot-walks leading from the hospital buildings, inside the inclosure, to the Eighth Street gate.

At this point several propositions were made by the male students to "give the women three cheers" when they should pass along, to "give them a round of applause," to "take off their hats," etc. Soon after the ladies, to the number of about twenty-five, came along, and as the male students, numbering about two hundred and fifty, occupied the whole of the foot-way on both sides, the ladies were compelled to take the cartway. As they passed modestly along over the rough cobble stones, the male students began to "hurrah," and jeer, and clap their hands, and while some were engaged in this mock applause, others hissed. To all this the ladies paid no attention, but passed quietly through the gatekeeper's lodge into Eighth street, and continued on toward Chestnut, followed by a large number of the male students, who formed a mock procession behind them for several blocks. It should be added that a gentleman connected with the hospital—one of the faculty, it was understood—made an earnest effort to stop

Notice to the Public.

THE statement made by one David Lehman, in a communication to THE CONSTITUTION and Griffin Star, that Ruth, Fehrman & Co., of Sidney Nurseries, at Yellow Springs, Ohio, were nothing but "Tree Speculators," and that he saw them pack "thousands of seedlings last fall, and deliver them to the Southern people for good trees," we pronounce to be untrue in every respect. We employed said Lehman as an agent, and he made an extortionate charge for walking, after refusing a horse we authorized him to use. In revenge for a refusal to pay this charge, he has tried to injure our business. We will deliver all the trees sold by us, at Eatonton on the 11th, Jonesboro 12th, Atlanta 15th, Newnan 16th, Griffin 18th, Hogansville 18th, LaGrange 22d, Barnesville 22d, Forsyth 25th, West Point 25th, and Crawford Station 27th.
A letter from Gen. Bushrod Johnson, of Tennessee, states that he purchased Fruit Trees from us in the Fall of 1868, (the case referred to by Lehman,) and they are "of excellent quality, have grown successfully and given entire satisfaction." We are willing that all our trees shall be examined by experience Nurserymen.

J. A. ROBERT,

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR,

Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little or none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels, swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes HURRIED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION. The skin is flabby and a "doughy feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 29th, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with the utmost success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother-in-law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom," I do not hesitate to indorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, TROUP COUNTY.

This is to certify that I have examined the recipe of Dr. Joseph Bradfield, of this county, and, as a medical man, pronounce it to be a combination of Medicines of great merit in the treatment of all the diseases of females for which he recommends it. WM. P. BEASLEY, M. D.
This December 21st, 1868.

MOUNTVILLE, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in saying I have witnessed the most decided and happy effects of your Female Regulator in this neighborhood. WM. H. FINCHER.

MOUNTVILLE, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I have repeatedly used, in my family, your Female Regulator, and have, in every case, met with complete success.

☞ I also prepare, and have for sale, a YEAST POWDER, equal to the best, and for much less price.

☞ I also prepare a LIQUID BLUING, now in use by many of the best house keepers in the city, and pronounced by them to be very superior.

Are Non-Forfeitable.

Thirty days grace allowed on any renewal payment, and the Policy held good.

No restriction on travel in the United States or any part of North America, north of the Southern Cape of Florida, or in Europe at any season of the year.

All Policies registered in the Insurance Department free of cost.

This makes every Policy as secure to the holder as a National Bank Note, or United States Bond.

Dividends, Freedom from Restrictions, Non-forfeiture, and a few other of the modern features of Life Insurance, are desirable concomitants, but they are all minor considerations in comparison with security.

Be convinced first that your investments are being placed beyond the chance of loss.

The Registry system offers absolute safety. With the issue of the Policy the accumulation begins. On the day the first premium is paid by the insured, the State of New York, pencil in hand, circulates the exact cent of the reserve, subtracts it from the gross premium, and, having paid the balance to the Company, places this portion in the Government vaults, and turns on it the keys of power. There it will remain, until death unlocks those ponderous doors, and liberates it from its silent prison, to console and bless those for whom it was designed. Year by year, as additional premiums are paid, the official fingers are set at work, and additional contributions go to swell the original neucleus. These, working together with the lapse of time, like the coral reef, become still larger through the marvelous machinery of compound interest.

If there be strife in the Company, it never passes those second portals. If there be peculation or fraud, it never breaks through these iron guards. The Company may fail, its officers may flee, bearing with them whatever plunder they may be able to secure. Its office may be invaded by burglars, or burned by conflagration, but the widow's and orphan's little duposit, guarded by the Parent Commonwealth, and beyond the reach of the results of crime, faithlessness or disaster, remains unharmed amidst them all. THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

HER SHADOW.

Bending between me and the taper,
While o'er the harp her white hand strayed,
The shadows of her waving tresses
Above my head were gently swayed.

With every graceful movement waving,
I marked their undulating swell;
I watched them while they met and parted
Curled close or widened, rose or fell.

I laughed in triumph and in pleasure—
So strange the sport, so undesigned!
Her mother turned and asked me gravely,
"What thought was passing through my mind?"

'Tis love that blinds the eyes of mothers—
'Tis love that makes the young maids fair!
She touched my hand; my rings she counted;
Yet never felt the shadows there.

Keep, gamesome Love, beloved Infant,
Keep ever thus all mothers blind;
And make thy dedicated virgins,
In substance and in shadow, kind.

The Diamonds of Georgia.

Editor Constitution: Several diamonds will be on exhibition at the State Fair, together with the stacolumite or matrix, in which they are found. This mineral is not only very rare, but one of the most singular and magnificent forms of chrystalization in the world. Over 50 have been found in Hall county; some of which were worth $2,000, but generally ranging from $100 to $500.

Mr. Loyd, formerly of the Washington Hall, in Atlanta, during the four years he was superintending the gold washings at the "Glade Mine," picked from the pannings a mustard bottle full without knowing anything of their nature or value. When he left, his daughter took the furniture, etc., to Floyd county, and twelve years afterwards her father was shown rough diamonds, when he at once, recognized them to be the same, and immediately went in quest of the treasure; but she had no recollection of them and they were never found. From his description of their size and lustre, they must have been worth at least two millions of dollars! The late Dr. Banks, found several in his gold washings, near the same place.

Dr. Daniel, of Savannah, has one, found six miles Southwest of Gainesville. Five have been found at Nacoochee, three of which are yet in the rough, and owned by Mrs. Jarrett, of Habersham county. Major Alton, and General Leventhorpe, of N. Y. City.

Wherever gold workings have been carried on in Hall county, they have been found, and picked up merely as curiosities—many given away and some sold for a trifle. From the geology of the country, and the accompanying minerals, with other circumstances, there can be no doubt but a well directed system of workings by experienced hands, would develope a rich diamond district. In Brazil, thousands of hands equally ignorant, but with less curiosity, washed gold for over half a century, and threw away untold millions. This may be the case here. All that is necessary is capital, and experienced miners.

M. F. STEPHENSON.

Unveiling the Statue of Commodore Vanderbilt.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The unveiling of the Vanderbilt statue to-day developed a vast personal dislike to the Commodore. Throughout the city there was a general outburst of feeling against the railroad king, and the ceremonies were mainly attended by street boys, corner loafers and third-rate politicians. Even among these it was considered monstrous for a man to spend $800,000 so as to get an immense bronze monument. Numerous questions were asked among the crowd why the Commodore did not build with so much money, lodging houses for workingmen.

THE VEIL LIFTED.

While the ceremonies were progressing this afternoon, the brokers had an exciting time on Wall street, where they unveiled a mock statue. It stood in the gallery of the long room. It was a tall and dignified statue, concealed from view by a curtain. Its body was covered with a sheet; one arm with dignity across the chest, while the other, whose hand was protected by a boxing-glove, sustained a watering-pot emblazoned with the consolidation price of Central "207." Ranged around the statue were the master of ceremonies, dignitaries of the street, orator and poet of the day, eight choristers in black with white gloves, and a few brokers.

Never was there such a scene; the pit-way was filled to its utmost with a crowd of brokers, among whom were many of the prominent men of Wall street. As the Chairman, Mr. E. H. Vanschaik, stepped forward to make his opening address, a beautiful bouquet (a cabbage), scientifically cut, was handed to him, and he proceeded to deliver an address. As he ceased, a gentleman solemnly arose, and, reading from a sheet of legal cap paper, said: "In the name of the United States and Buenos Ayres, and of the Supreme Court, I enjoin you from further proceedings in this matter." He was put off the gallery for daring to read an injunction.

A gentleman who was introduced, a Mr. Black, delivered an impressive address, mainly devoted to the beauties and uses of water, not only as a beverage, but as a means of increasing prices. He said "he had always known that some liquids would make a man see double, but it remained for Commodore Vanderbilt to prove to the world that water, plain, simple water, was sufficient to double the price of stocks. Commodore Vanderbilt had started as a waterman, and water had been the Central idea of his life."

The statue was here unveiled amidst uproarious cheering.—Special Dispatch to the Courier Journal.

Miss Judith Russell, of New Bedford, writes: I have been afflicted with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. While visiting some friends in New York, who were using Plantation Bitters, they prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine-glass full after each meal. Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID!

THE ASTONISHING

Family Medicine!!!

Saved from Death---Read!

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 William street, New York—Gents: Yours, of the 23d, is before me and has attention. It gives me pleasure to say, that my belief is, that your "Fluid," under the supervision of a kind Providence, saved the life of my youngest child, some six years ago. The child being wasted to a skeleton, by the effects of teething, and an affection of the bowels therewith. I had never seen any one reduced so low to recover.

"Physic" had been tried in vain, until the Physicians stated it was useless. A friend recommended your "Fluid," or ozone, which he stated was one of the component parts of it. I did so, and the effect was like magic, plainly discernable in one hour, in its good effects, producing quiet and sleep almost at once, where irritation and sleepless restlessness had previously possessed the child to nearly entire exhaustion.

I at first administered it in a small way, 2 and 3 drops in a spoonful of water, and increased it to 6 and 10 drops. It completely checked the bowels, and had the happiest effect, the child rapidly recovering.

I have tried your "Fluid," on animals, with the same effect; both horses and cows, mingling more or less in water, and letting them drink.

I have no hesitation in saying, I believe it a specific for Chronic Diarrhœa, or any violent affection of the bowels.

I would not be without it in my family, under any consideration.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM FOWLER.

AND AGAIN!

Read the following letter from Mr. Frank Saunders, a well-known citizen, and brother-in-law of the beloved Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South:

189 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 29, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK—Gents: About the 10th of June last, one of my children was taken with Scarlet Fever, in its most malignant form, and as soon as I could I procured your valuable disinfectant, "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid." Although it was several days after the appearance of the disease before I began using the Fluid; still, by a free use of it, the disease was not only confined to the one case, but the malignity of that case somewhat mitigated.

During the use of the Fluid as a disinfectant, in my family it was also tried in a case of headache, and one of toothache; the results in each case being instantaneous relief. It was afterwards tried in a case of Erysipelas, with almost equal success.

It is due to the merits of this compound, also, to state, that the case of Erysipelas in question, being located in the feet, the Fluid, in its application, was brought in frequent contact with a troublesome corn, on one of the feet, to the utter discomfiture of said corn; for, upon subsequent examination it had disappeared, and though it was sought for diligently, it could not be found.

I send you this, hoping it may be the means of inducing others of earth's poor sufferers, to test for themselves, as I did, the great merits of this great remedy.

Very respectfully yours,
FRANK SAUNDERS.

KINGSTON, GA., July 20, 1869.

MESSRS. A. N. WOOD & CO., EATON, N. Y.—Gents: I have given the Engine which I purchased of you a thorough test, and must say that it is the best piece of machinery that I ever had any thing to do with. It is just the thing I wanted and what every other farmer needs and ought to have. I never knew anything about an engine before; but I put this together and run it successfully, and could not do without it now. I intend using it for everything that a farmer needs power. I can recommend your Engines to all those who are wanting a good, reliable power; but must say that your Engines recommend themselves better than I can do. Use this in any way you think best. "THE UTLEY COTTON PRESS."

A new invention of power whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this Press astonishes all who see it, and the more so, that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. The strain is wholly upon two (2) Iron Bars 1¼ inches square, operating on these bars as if two men were pulling at each end in contrary direction, which will sustain a strain of 120,000 pounds each. With this Press two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale in the of eight minutes, and if need be, one man can operate, only requiring more time. This Press will not occupy more space than a Piano, and can be placed under the Gin and receive the Cotton direct from the Gin, thus doing away with Lint Rooms, and can be readily taken down and transported as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered. Will send circulars to any desiring, and would advise all wanting Presses to withhold buying until they examine this. We will, at an early day, have one on exhibition in Atlanta, when it can be seen.

Press complete $175; Irons complete $125.

These presses are now being manufactured in Atlanta, Columbus, Augusta and Macon, and at important points throughout the State, where its workings can be seen. All are assured that as between this Press and any other, there is no argument as to its merits over all others. With the Irons any ordinary workman can put up the Press. ☞ County Rights, Presses, or Irons for sale by

R. P. GLENN, Agent,
At Glenn, Wright & Carr's Warehouse, Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ.—Dear Sir: I am so much pleased with the style, make and operation of the Utley Cotton Press, that I have concluded to order one of them from you for my plantation on the Mississippi River.

I do this, notwithstanding I have on my place a large and superior 10 inch Iron Screw Press, which cost upwards of $300 before the war. Believing that the saving of time and space, to say nothing of its superior baling qualities, and by reason of its great power, will more than repay its cost over the one now in use. I do not hesitate to recommend this Press to all who may require one.

Very Respectfully,
A. J. HOLMES.
Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ—Dear Sir: Having witnessed the operation of the "Utley Cotton Press," the great power exerted at the cost of a little labor which is performed by hand, and the small amount of room it occupies. I feel satisfied that it is as good, if not the best arrangement for baling cotton that has come under my observation, and do do not hesitate in recommending it to those needing a Press.

Very respectfully, C. H. STRONG, of McDaniel & Strong, Warehouse and Cotton Factors, Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., August 31, 1869.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ: We have examined very carefully the "Utley" Cotton and Hay Press, as manufactured by you, and are perfectly satisfied it is greatly superior to any other Press now in use. It is simple in its construction, can be readily taken down and moved to where your Cotton or Hay may be, and as readily put up again. There is nothing about it that can get out of order, that a farmer can not himself repair. We have seen it tested and know that one strong man can press a bale much smaller than four mules can on any other Press we ever saw. One advantage is, it occupies so little space that it can be placed close to the Gin room, or even in it, and save extra hauling of cotton.

Very respectfully, H. MARSHALL, Fulton County Agricultural Society.
MARK W. JOHNSON, Guano Merchant.

We, the under signed, having witnessed the operations of the Utley Cotton Press, at the Warehouse of Glenn, Wright & Carr, must say that it is the most simple and powerful we have witnessed. With the qualities of economy in space and labor. Mr. R. P. Glenn, the Agent, exemplified fully that one man can exert more force in this Press than can be done by four mules on any other. We have no hesitancy in recommending this Press to the farmers of Georgia, or in giving it as our opinion that the Utley Press supplies a desideratum long needed.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Jordan arrived, with the Utley Cotton Press, by last evening's train and put it up to-day. A great many went to see it, and looked at its performances with astonishment. They try to criticise it, but can't pick a flaw in it. They see its great power—y t nothing is strained. Its great simplicity astonishes. All who have bought Screws regret it, and I think many will throw them away and buy the Utley Press. I will at once close contracts for wood works. So send on Irons early as possible.

Respectfully R. B. GUNBY.

ROME GA., September 8, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Your set of the 5th received. I am more and more pleased with the Utley Press. As I wrote you, my first bale of rags weighed 970 lbs. The next days (Friday and Saturday,) with two men, I packed 16 bales weighing 700 lbs. Now, I would not, for any consideration, exchange this Press for any other, indeed, I could not get along without it. All who see it are delighted with it. I am now packing my lint cotton with it.

J. J. COHEN.

GRIFFIN, GA., September 15, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Mr Ru P. Johnson delivered us the Utley Press yesterday, when we at once put it up in our warehouse, and packed one bale weighing 478 lbs. This morning we packed another bale weighing 545 lbs. each, with only two men—one good man could have done it by himself. Many planters were to see it, all were delighted with it, and two of our largest (Mr. Manly and Mr. Prichard) say they will sell—one an Alexander Press, and the other a most improved Screw for $50, being one third of their cost—and buy the Utley Press. This, sir, is the Press for the planter—it is so convenient, powerful and simple, and is so easily taken down and put up.

We cheerfully subscribe to the above.

CORN!

PROLIFIC CORN!

I have a species of Corn which I obtained from a man in Virginia some two years ago. This man and his Corn have been denounced as humbugs. I am not able to say whether the seed I obtained is the "Egyptain Corn" or not, but I do know from having grown it twice, that it is by far the most valuable species of Corn ever planted in this country. I am well satisfied that two crops of this Corn can be produced in the same year in this climate, and I know that on the same land, with the same seasons and culture, it will yield three times as much as any other kind of corn of which I have any knowledge. I have planted it for two years, and have realized large crops, literally without rain. In this exceedingly dry year, if all the farmers of Bartow County had planted this corn, we would have been worth a million of dollars more than we are, and the people would have rejoiced in abundance of bread. I have some of this Corn for sale, and will dispose of it to those who wish to purchase at $6 a peck, delivered to the Railroad Agent at Kingston, Ga.

This Corn can be grown and gathered in this climate by the 15th of August, which gives far more ample time to prepare for and sow wheat, or other small grain on the same land. All orders to receive attention must be accompanied with the money, prepaid. I do not wish to sell less than one peck to any one order. Address me at Kingston, Ga. J. C. ROPER,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

We the undersigned citizens of Bartow county, do certify, that we visited the plantation of J. C. Roper about the 1st of August, 1869, and examined his field planted in the kind of Corn mentioned and described in his foregoing statement, and said field looked fresh and luxuriant, whilst the fields around and adjacent, seemed literally burned up with the drought. We are satisfied that Capt. Roper's statement about the Corn is true, and the undersigned, Lewis Tumlin, has already secured from him seed to plant a large part of his crop the coming year. We counted twenty-three ears of corn produced from three grains this dry year. In our judgment, it is by far the most valuable Corn ever introduced into this country. L. TUMLIN,
Cartersville, Ga.
MARK A. HARDIN,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

Capt. J. C. Roper, of Kingston, Ga., gave me a few ears of Corn, which I planted on a piece of gray upland. The land was very well prepared, and pretty well matured, and the Corn planted the 7th day of April, 1869. I know, that from the time the Corn was waist high, until it was well glazed in the grain, there never was a "season" of rain upon it, and yet was green and fresh until maturity, and did not seem to suffer from drought. The yield was extraordinary and the Corn attracted the attention of almost every passer by. I am no farmer, and had of course but a small plat of ground planted in this Corn, but if my judgment is worth anything, I can say, that if I had planted this Corn altogether, I would have made, in this dry year, three or four times as much Corn as I did.
